

Help the State Historic Preservation Office Heart Bomb Oklahoma!

Don't know what a heart bomb is? It's an Oklahoma way of showing love for a historic place. February is quickly approaching and we are inviting all Oklahomans to join our cause to show love for historic places.

Your reasons for participating may vary. You might love the place, or you might love the cause, or maybe you just miss kindergarten craft time!

The concept is easy:

- ♡ Gather a group of people who are passionate about historic places.
- ♡ Make valentines for the place(s) you love (construction paper works great!).
- ♡ Take your valentines to the place, stand in front of it and take lots of photos showing your love. If you don't have permission to be there, be sure to stay on the sidewalk. If you want to affix your heart, do so with tape only and make sure you have permission.
- ♡ Share your photos on social media using #IHeartSavingPlaces and be sure to tag the OKSHPO.
